The session of the Thirty-eighth Annual Meeting of the American Institute of Instruction commenced in the Tremont Temple at 2 o'clock to-day. Wm. E. Sheldon of this city, President, in the Chair. The exercises were opened with prayer by the Rev. H. K. Rockwood of the American Tract Society.

The President introduced Dr. John A. Lanson, who in a brief address declared the Institute to be in behalf of the School Committee and the citizens of Boston. The President responded in an appropriate and eloquent address, in which he alluded to the foundation of the Institute in this city and to the great benefits which have already been derived from its labors.

The President then introduced the Hon. George B. Loring of Salem, Mass., who delivered an address on the subject of "Asbestos and Practical Education." It was a magnificent historical production, and the course of his address he paid due tributes to the classical studies of Everett, Fulton, and Cicero. Although very long, the effort was well received.

It was a magnificent historical production, and the course of his address he paid due tributes to the classical studies of Everett, Fulton, and Cicero. Although very long, the effort was well received.

The audience was, however, attracted by the ceremony of the presentation of the diploma to the Hon. George B. Loring of Salem, Mass., who had just been awarded by the Massachusetts Alpha at Harvard. It seems that the diploma was presented to him by the Hon. George B. Loring of Salem, Mass., who had just been awarded by the Massachusetts Alpha at Harvard. The public exercises of yesterday commenced by an oration by the Rev. Dr. Skinner before the Sigma Phi Fraternity, which holds a convention at Williams-town this week, and by the Hon. George B. For a great deal in said and a good deal more believed about the Austro-French, or the Anglo-Austro-French alliance, or even the Austro-Austro-French alliance, it is certain, it is that the death of Maximilian has not cooled whatever warmth may have existed in the relations between the Emperor who sent him on his unenviable mission and the Emperor who sent him on his unenviable mission.

The Emperor who sent him on his unenviable mission and the Emperor who sent him on his unenviable mission. The Emperor who sent him on his unenviable mission and the Emperor who sent him on his unenviable mission. The Emperor who sent him on his unenviable mission and the Emperor who sent him on his unenviable mission.

The Emperor who sent him on his unenviable mission and the Emperor who sent him on his unenviable mission. The Emperor who sent him on his unenviable mission and the Emperor who sent him on his unenviable mission. The Emperor who sent him on his unenviable mission and the Emperor who sent him on his unenviable mission.
